

G. Anaesthesia

Usual anaesthesia procedures can be applied, as determined by the extremity requiring treatment. Thus, insufflation, mask, blocking, spinal, peridural and local anaesthesia is possible. The physician and/or anaesthetist performing the treatment is responsible for choosing the proper form of anaesthesia.